

I am a simple PDF to be used for testing G Grobler's Research Prototype

I am here to test the addition of elements to a PDF Documents metadata

I am Page 1

This PDF exists solely for the change to the metadata, there will be no visible change.

This is just flavour text to expand the size of the content stream for the sake of testing the ability of the PDF to recognise larger file streams.

I am Page 2

This PDF exists solely for the change to the metadata, there will be no visible change.

This is just flavour text to expand the size of the content stream for the sake of testing the ability of the PDF to recognise larger file streams.

Maybe One day there will be an expansion onto the prototype and then it will be really good at adapting new situations and strategies of altering PDFS.

I am page 3

This PDF exists solely for the change to the metadata, there will be no visible change.

This is just flavour text to expand the size of the content stream for the sake of testing the ability of the PDF to recognise larger file streams.

Maybe One day there will be an expansion onto the prototype and then it will be really good at adapting new situations and strategies of altering PDFS.

This story is getting longer for now reason, thank you for reading this far though, creating all the test PDFS took a while